
CityWalk - ERDF project partner:

Cassovia Life Sciences

Cassovia Life Sciences (CLS) is a not-for-profit association of scientific and research institutes, innovative industry participants, SME-s related to research, innovation and regional development. In CityWalk project both representatives of CLS and its core member of University of Žilina (Technical University focused on transportation) will provide expertise from the researchers and use outputs of the project for implementation in target city of Žilina.

CLS will offer professional expertise of its academic members in the fields of: civil engineering, urbanism, environment, public health and communication. CLS will also implement pilot plan in Žilina city, situated in the north of Slovakia. Their aim is to improve current unsatisfactory situation of walkability in Žilina City and increase our knowledge in the fields of walkability and urban development.
